HOW TO PLANT Spring-Flowering BULBS

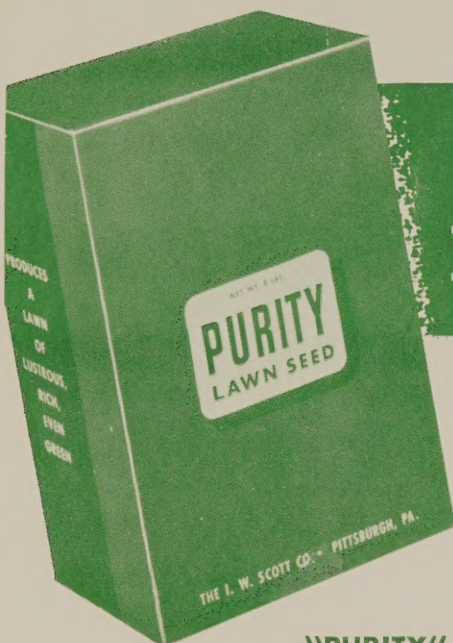

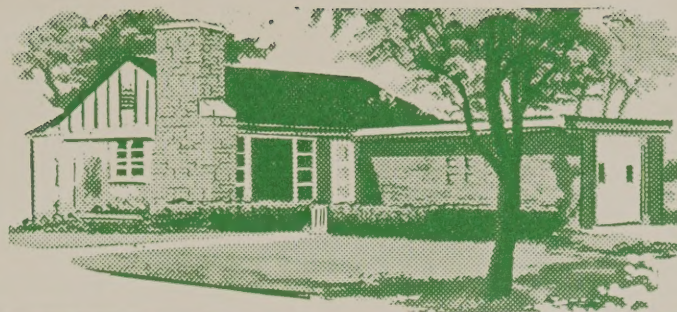

Spring-flowering bulbs are planted in the fall and are easily grown. All that's needed is a loose soil that roots can penetrate, and sufficient moisture.

If ground is dry, soak well before digging. Plant bulbs pointed end up. Once planted, they need but little care as the bulbs contain their own nourishment. Choose early, medium, and late varieties for spring-long bloom.

LAWN MAKING IS BEST DONE IN THE FALL

The sowing of lawns in the late summer or early fall is recognized as a desirable practice. It helps the lawn grasses to recover from natural "wear and tear" and also from the ruinous competition of crabgrass. If you are not quite sure about the recommended grass seed mixtures, fertilizers, and the techniques required, our experienced personnel will gladly advise you.
